challenges

Demographic growth, lifestyle change, digital economy development, rising energy demand, increasingly rare resources, and continuously spreading pollution.

These are the current challenges of a planetary size, to which the world will have to respond.

vision

We are creating tomorrow's world already today. We have decided to create the future rather than to predict it. We want to know and influence how our lives, society, and business will change.

We see the future in pursuing projects and initiatives that will make it possible for us to face these challenges.

values

The background features a collage of three images: a misty forested mountain peak, a close-up of a large arrow carved into a stone surface, and a small silhouette of a person walking on a vast, flat, light-colored landscape. These images are partially covered by large, semi-transparent geometric shapes in shades of blue and grey, creating a modern, architectural feel.

Highly experienced and hard-working people play the key role in each of our projects, while a story determining the basic values for our work is behind each project.

We finance and manage projects that have a higher meaning and that rely on innovation and sustainability as their basis.

Talkey - solution for secure communication

Holder of The Czech
100 Best Award
2020 & 2021

We have developed a solution for secure communication and for the protection of sensitive information and personal data in compliance with legislative requirements. An end-to-end tool for encrypting communication between computers and mobile devices ensures that e-mails, data, and files are only visible for the sender and the recipient.

unique features

The advanced features of the Talkey application enable the sender to have control over the content of his messages. For example, he can cancel an already sent e-mail or set the maximum number of e-mail openings, following which the e-mail is destroyed automatically.

bondix
- easy and intuitive bond management

We have developed the bondix platform, which is intended for all issuers who want to easily manage their bonds. Everything is online, gathered into one place and totally paperless. Using appropriately selected tools, the platform enables issuers to develop the communication with its investors.

unrivalled solution

The application enables management of owners, management of valuables and calculation of coupons. It is all paperless solution without having to sign any documents, which makes this application unrivalled in this field.

notos power - renewable electricity

We carry out projects for the development and operation of modern, environmentally friendly wind farms, since the primary energy sources are dwindling. Our objective is to meet the rising demand for green energy and to ensure safe and continuous electricity supply.

sensible siting

We site wind farms where it makes sense, i.e. in locations with stable air currents. We identify the sites based on long-term test measurements of the weather conditions.

holver - services for financial professionals

holver, a major broker pool company, delivers services that bring efficiency and protection in the performance of advisory services. It provides partners with advanced online tools and delivers commercial, administrative, and legislative support in a form that helps rather than hinders unnecessarily.

unique approach

The personalised approach on which the company builds its values gives rise to long-term commercial relationships and emphasises the freedom of enterprise.

200 + intermediaries

finette
- closed community of private investors

The finette application helps a closed group of investors to manage their investments. In the app's environment, particular investment products can be ordered similarly as from an e-shop. Thus, the purchase of a security is carried out directly, without the participation of a broker..

unrivalled with exclusive access

This is a completely paperless solution without the need to sign any documents, and the app is therefore unrivalled in the industry. Access is only allowed upon invitation.

sunette
- technology & digital business studio

We respond to current challenges of digital world, which leads us to develop our own products, software and platforms for more efficient management and control. We help realize goals through adjusted online strategies, effective digital architecture and properly selected tools or special affiliate projects.

unique approach

We can help visions or ideas into the world at all stages. Each project is unique for us and we always choose specific strategies for it.
